

Job Position

Position Name: Junior Software Developer

Description: We are looking for a Junior Web programmer and Java Developer to join our IT team. We work exclusively with Silicon Valley companies. You will be part of a talented software team that works on designing, coding and improving our company web pages, programs and application and works on mission-critical applications. If you're passionate about building software and perform well working in a team, along with developers, engineers and web designers, we would like to meet you.

Responsibilities:

- Produce fully functional programs writing clean, testable code
- Design user interface and web layout using HTML/CSS practices
- Upgrade and repair existing programs
- Perform periodical tests and debugging to maximize program efficiency
- Create technical documentation for user support
- Design and develop high-volume, low-latency applications for mission-critical systems and delivering high-availability and performance
- Contribute in all phases of the development lifecycle

Requirements:

- BSc degree in Computer Science, Engineering or a related subject MSc will be considered as an advantage
- The successful candidate should be one from the top 20% of their cohort
- Knowledge of Java and JEE
- Knowledge of Relational Databases, SQL and ORM technologies
- Knowledge of Object Oriented Programming and web application development, will be considered as an advantage
- Project management skills within a fast-paced work environment
- Attention to detail
- Fluent in English

How to apply:

Interested candidates should submit curriculum vitae (CV) via e-mail to Mr. Konstantinos Bouzoukas at info@eunoia-consulting.com.

Location:

Based in Nicosia with the majority of our customers being in U.S. Communication services as Skype and Amazon Chime will be used in a daily basis.

Salary: 1000 euros

Duration: Initial contract 8 months with option of renewal

For further details, contact us at 22030025